The Eighth District Convention of the Knights of Pythias was held in this city yesterday. Delegates were present from every lodge in the counties of Bulloch, Chatham, Effingham, Liberty, Screven, Tattnall and Bryan, which comprise the eighth district.

The proceedings, of course, were secret, the only part given out for publication being the names of the delegates and the officers elected for the ensuing year. They were:

Sylvania—F. M. Huff.

A sumptuous banquet to the visitors was spread at the Jackel hotel by the local lodge. Mayor Strange welcomed the delegates to the city and the feast, and Sir Knight R. E. Hall, of Savannah, responded on behalf of the visitors.

The Pythian order is very strong throughout the United States and Canada, and extends into nearly every civilized country on the globe.

It was founded by Gen. Justin H. Rathbone and six associates at Washington, D. C., Feb. 19, 1864.

The principal sentiment underlying the tenets of the order is unflinching friendship. Its founders took their inspiration from the old Syracusan story of the friendship of Damon and Pythias.

Damon was condemned to death by Dionysius, King of Syracuse.

He obtained permission to visit his home to arrange his worldly affairs and bid his sweet wife farewell. To insure his return the king required a hostage. Pythias, Damon's good friend, offered himself as a hostage, agreeing to die in Damon's stead should he not return at the hour set for his execution.

Dionysius doubted the genuineness of such friendship, and ordered that the prison cell of Pythias be left open and unguarded to test his good faith, but set secret watchers to prevent his escape should he yield to temptation.

Then the trial of Pythias—the supreme test of his friendship, truth and loyalty—began. Calantha, his betrothed, came into the unguarded prison door. He loved her next to his honor. She besought him, on her knees and in distress and tears, to fly with her. She assured him that Damon had fled to Rimini and left him to die. Pythias resisted all her pleadings, and finally put her out and shut the door.

Meantime, Damon was having his troubles at home. He set his house in order and made due provision for the future of his family. His wife, Hermion, clung around his neck, beseeching him to fly and let Pythias die. But he resisted, and bade her and his little ones a fond farewell.

As he stepped sadly forth from the door of his desolate house, his faithful servant, knowing that there was barely time for him to reach the place of execution, stabbed his master's waiting horse to death. Then, on foot, Damon started a race for the life of his friend Pythias.

At the hour for the execution approached Pythias paced the floor of his still unguarded cell. Outside the woman he loved wept in anguish and through her tears plead with him to fly while it was yet time.

He never faltered. His friendship, loyalty and high sense of honor stood the supreme test. When the hour arrived he was led forth to the scaffold, where, with ax poised, stood the headman, waiting to sever his devoted neck.

At this moment a great stir and commotion took place in the crowd surrounding the scaffold, and a man panting for breath and gesticulating wildly. It was the loyal Damon, back just in time to save the life of his faithful friend and hostage.

This evidence of loyalty and truth so moved Dionysius, the tyrant, that he pardoned Damon, and even begged to become his friend.

RAISING CATTLE FOR MARKET.

Twenty Acres of Good Bermuda Grass Will Graze 100 Cows.

(Dublin Courier-Dispatch.)

It is strange that cattle-raising in this county has grown into almost a past occupation.

Twenty acres of Bermuda grass, well fertilized and looked after, will fatten 100 head of cattle. This does not seem to be known to farmers.

It is hard at times for butchers to secure the beef cattle they need. Especially is it hard to get fat steers.

Mr. W. R. Wynn brought to the city this week from a point 50 miles from Dublin 37 head of beef cattle, 36 being steers from three to eight years old. This bunch of cattle is in fine condition, and was fattened on Bermuda grass. The man he purchased them from had 150 head left. What this man is doing and has done another can do. Cattle can be fattened in Laurens county as well as in a county 50 miles away.

MR. BLITCH OFFERS PARK SITE

TO SAVANNAH AUTO CLUB—PATHFINDER RETURNS FROM SUCCESSFUL TRIP.

It is authoritatively stated that Mr. J. Gordon Blitch has tendered as a gift to the Savannah Auto Club 100 acres of land along the Ogeechee river, near the Jinks bridge, to be converted into a park and picnic grounds for automobilists and their friends who may desire to use it as an outing point.

The bridge is about twenty miles from Savannah—an hour's run for the average automobile. There is already a small club house near the bridge, which Mr. Blitch says could be conveniently enlarged to answer all necessary purposes for accommodating a large club.

The Savannah club has not yet officially considered Mr. Blitch's offer, but it is likely it will be refused, as it will afford a convenient site for a supply depot as well as a pleasant resting place for travelers by auto and for those from Savannah and points north.

The Savannah Auto Club's big car, "Pathfinder," passed through Statesboro Sunday forenoon on its return trip from Atlanta, whither it went several days ago, seeking the best route for automobile travel between the two cities.

The car was in charge of Mr. T. A. Bryson, and along with him were a Morning News reporter and the official photographer of the club.

Photographs of scenes, good and bad stretches of road, bridges, etc., were made, and inquiries instituted with a view to establish auto supply stations along the route, especially for gasoline and lubricating oils.

All along the route, Mr. Bryson said, the pathfinder was hospitably received and its occupants shown many courtesies.

Here in Statesboro the party was given a hearty reception by the local auto enthusiasts, and a pilot car was fitted up to show the pathfinder party a shorter route from here to Stilton than had been traveled on the way up to Atlanta. The new route is 1½ miles shorter, but Mr. Bryson thought the other route the best road for automobiles.

Among those who went to Savannah with the pathfinder and the pilot car were: Messrs. W. M. Hagan, W. H. Blitch, H. B. Davis, J. S. Kenan and J. Gordon Blitch.

Can't Loan Good Money.

Mr. R. Lee Moore, who represents here the Southern Farm Mortgage Company, an Atlanta corporation, says there is nothing doing in the money lending business in Bulloch county just now.

"Prosperity has certainly struck this section amidsips," said Mr. Moore yesterday. "During the hard times following the panic two years ago I loaned out considerable money on five-year mortgages to Bulloch county farmers. They are now coming in every day with great wads of money, offering to pay off and cancel those mortgages. I can not let them do it, as the company prefers those good interest-bearing mortgages to the cash, which can't be readily loaned out again."

Sparrows Kill Turkeys.

English sparrows kill turkeys in Rhode Island, according to Dr. Philip B. Hadley. They convey the "black head" disease, whose fatal prevalence among turkeys is threatening the ruin of turkey farming in the state. Dr. Hadley says that poultry generally, game birds, and some wild song birds, have the amoeba or coccidium, which causes the disease, and so why he lays all the blame to the English sparrow does not quite appear, unless because the little pest has earned so bad a name on other accounts. The British grouse are troubled in a way similar to the turkey. And the seriousness of the case is illustrated by Dr. Hadley in the statement that whereas thirty years ago Block Island alone used to send out more than 40,000 pounds a year, the turkeys now raised there can only be counted by dozens. —Washington Herald.

CANNON HAS A WAR AT HOME

BITTER FIGHT TO BE WAGED TO KEEP HIM OUT OF CONGRESS.

Danville, Ill., Oct. 9.—Politicians who have made a study of conditions in this congressional district believe that the opening gun has been fired in what promises to be the most bitter war ever waged for the seat of any one man in congress, and that a fight is to be made for the seat of Speaker Cannon.

Those who know say that the war to be waged against him during the next year will be severe, and if he comes out the victor he will have to marshal his forces and fight harder than ever before. The annual meeting of political leaders at the Springfield State Fair was more poorly attended than usual, and a number of politicians who did not attend held one of their own and determined not only to oppose Mr. Cannon, but other big men in the state.

Opposition to Mr. Cannon is being developed in his home town, and there is no question but that he will have at least two opponents.

Dr. H. B. Downs already has announced himself as a candidate as an independent, and it is common talk that the democrats will nominate Judge E. R. E. Kimbrough to oppose Cannon.

Kimrough is the biggest democrat in Eastern Illinois. His friends believe that if he should defeat Cannon he would be the biggest democrat in the country and the logical candidate for the presidency in 1912.

8 MURDER CASES IN EMANUEL

COUNTY JAIL CROWDED WITH PRISONERS FOR PRESENT TERM.

Swainsboro, Ga., Oct. 14.—Superior court will convene here next Monday, Judge T. B. Rawlings, presiding.

From the number of cases appearing on the docket and the importance of many of them, there is not much likelihood of the docket's being anything like cleared, a circumstance to be deplored, since some of the civil cases docketed have been almost worn out by lapse of time, and the jail is overrun with criminals, among them eight murders.

Manse Curry, who was recently brought back from Florida, where he was a fugitive from justice, will answer to the charge of murdering a negro woman, Lizzie Minney, four years ago, at Stillmore, apparently without provocation.

Charlie Allen will be tried for shooting Beatrice Green, a negro girl, at a frolic about two months ago.

Coke Smith is in jail awaiting trial on the charge of having murdered another negro at Adrian, this year, for which offense one negro was convicted at the last term of court.

John Faircloth, a white man, is in jail charged with the murder of a negro man, John Pope, at Stillmore, while riding on a merry-go-round.

Jim Mack will be put on trial for the killing of Dank Williams at Stillmore a few months ago.

Jim Myrick will be tried for killing a negro woman, Mary Williams, by beating her over the head with a piece of scantling, and thus mutilating her most horribly.

CRIME IS ON INCREASE

STATEMENT OF JUDGE RAWLINGS TO EMANUEL GRAND JURY.

Swainsboro, Ga., Oct. 18.—The superior court convened today with Judge T. B. Rawlings presiding. Judge in charging the grand jury called attention to the fact that crime in the Middle Circuit is on the increase, which he said is the lax manner in which the laws are enforced. He contrasted the respect shown to the laws of the United States with the lack of respect shown to the state laws, and gave as the reason of this difference the strict enforcement of the national laws and the loose manner in which the state laws are enforced. A condition which he said was in condition to remedy. He related, in a calculation made by himself of the expense of running the courts and punishing criminals in the Middle Circuit that it is evident that enough money is expended to run every bank in the circuit.

Infant Salvation.

Valdosta, Ga., Oct. 16.—The Savannah presbytery, which has been in session here for the past two days, has adopted resolutions with reference to the "elect infant clause," a doctrinal point which is demanding the consideration of presbytery circles, and which is now pending before various synods. The Savannah presbytery adopted, in effect, the following resolution: "All persons dying in infancy are elect and regenerated and saved."

TREASURY MUDDLE STILL ON

POPE BROWN SAYS LIQUOR INTERESTS STIRRED UP THE ROW.

Atlanta, Oct. 17.—The gossip of the capitol yesterday concerned itself with the controversy over the status of the state treasury, and particularly with the wide divergence in the views of those who have discussed what the books will show on January 1, 1910.

At one extreme is the statement of former Governor Smith that there will be a surplus of $400,000 in round numbers on January 1.

At the other are figures of State Treasurer J. Pope Brown, estimating that if all taxes due the state for this year could be collected by January 1 all obligations due up to that time could be paid and $2,000,000 left over.

Between these two estimates all the others range.

Alonso Richardson & Company figure on a deficit of $728,000, and representative J. Randolph Anderson says it will be $750,000. Former Warrant Clerk Calvin M. Hitch has entered the guessing and estimates that the balance will be $1,750,000.

A member of the legislature who drifted into the governor's reception room during the day said:

"If there is any doubt as to whether the state is ahead of the game and has an adequate working balance, why not put all the obligations of the state on the same basis? When money for school purposes is due, let the governor sign the warrants and put it up to the state treasurer to pay the money out of the $2,000,000 working balance. Then, if the state treasury does run short, let the courts, or the state's eleemosynary institutions, or the members of the legislature themselves take their turn with the school teachers in approaching the state treasurer's window. Of course, there will be no trouble, with a $2,000,000 working balance."

Asked if he thought the members of the legislature would agree to that in the event the state treasurer had overshot the mark, he replied:

"Well, hardly."

In discussing the matter Friday, State Treasurer Brown said a report had been published some time ago that the state of Georgia was bankrupt and he wanted to correct that impression.

"Then you meant your statement at Carrollton to be taken as a pardonable bit of patriotic exuberance?" was suggested.

"No, I meant what I said," he replied. "The state is prosperous and this whole problem is stirred up by the liquor people, who hope to use it as an argument to reinstate liquor for the revenue the state would get out of it."

A MONSTER BEEF.

One Butchered by D. A. Brannen Weighed 860 Pounds.

The biggest beef ever sold in the Statesboro market was butchered last Friday by Mr. D. A. Brannen, and was bought by the South Side Grocery. The hind quarters dressed 185 pounds each and the fore-quarters 245, making a total of 860 pounds. The hide of this monster beef weighed 109 pounds, and the liver—well, it was big enough for an ordinary family's breakfast.

Mr. Brannen bought this animal from the exposition in Atlanta a few years ago, and finds that Bulloch county is well adapted to the raising of such stock. "It costs no more to raise good beef cattle than to raise poor," he said, "and Mr. Brannen's experience is that, when butchered for market, the large animal will bring a good pile of money."

City and County

Lower Lotts Creek Primitive Baptist association will convene next Friday with Anderson's church in the Sinkhole district.

Three fines in mayor's court Monday, with a matinee promised for today, bear testimony to the continued existence of a "wet goods" establishment in this vicinity. Those before the mayor Monday were colored citizens, two men and one female, who drew fines of $5 each.

Neither of the three convicts which have recently escaped from the chain gang have yet been arrested. Two of these, one a felon and the other a misdemeanor convict, escaped from the main gang three weeks ago while located near Statesboro; while the third was a misdemeanor convict and escaped from the extra gang near Pulaski last week.

Mr. Charles McLendon died Monday morning at his home near Blitchton, following a two-weeks' illness with typhoid fever. His death was a sad one, and was due to a perforation of the intestines caused from inflammation attendant upon the fever. Drs. Sample and Floyd were called Sunday to perform an operation in the hope of saving his life, but found the young man too feeble to stand the ordeal. He was a son of W. S. McLendon.

Without rain at an early date, there are sections of Bulloch county that will suffer greatly from the drought. In some places streams are at a lower stage than have been known for years, and many water mills have almost been forced to cease grinding and ginning for want of water power. It is also a common complaint that the steam mills are unable to make full time, and wells are being dug deeper all over the county.

Let us show you, point by point, wherein the vehicles we carry are superior both in style and construction to those you'll find elsewhere at anywhere near our prices.

$2,000 Worth of Books.

That our people are becoming more literary in their tastes is plainly shown by the fact that more than $2,000 worth of books were paid for in Statesboro last Monday.

These represented the sales of two weeks by a couple of book agents early in the summer, notes being taken at the time which fell due Monday. From every section of the county came upright citizens with the "long green" to redeem their notes, varying in size from $2 to $15.

As an inducement for prompt payment of the notes, a drawing contest was conducted in which each person was given a chance at a valuable sewing machine. Each $5 purchase entitled to one chance, and many bought heavily for the sake of a chance at the machine. The lucky one was Mr. L. S. Stewart, Garfield.

ELEVATOR FELL THREE STORIES

Tore Hole Through Floor and Caused Wild Excitement.

Under a load of a thousand pounds of dry goods the freight elevator in the Simmons Co.'s store broke loose last Friday evening and fell from the third floor to the ground. The fall was so terrific that the heavy floor joists were cut smooth in two, and the elevator was badly damaged.

Messrs. Bill Simmons and John Gould, who were drawing up the elevator, barely escaped without injury, as they stood upon a platform by the elevator shaft as the death-dealing machine fell past them. So close was the contact that Mr. Simmons was grazed on his nose by the elevator. Abner Hill, who was standing near by, was struck by the cable, but was not injured.

The fall was caused by the breaking of the drum around which the cable was coiled, followed by the breaking of the cable.

Leg Broken in Run-Away.

Linton Lanier, 14-year-old son of O. H. P. Lanier, had his leg broken yesterday morning by the running away of his mule in the southern part of the city. The young man and his brother two years older were coming in on the wagon with a bale of cotton, following behind the buggy in which their parents were riding. Without apparent cause the mule began running and struck a telephone pole, throwing the boys out. Linton fell against a tree and his thigh was broken. The other boy was unhurt. The wagon was completely demolished.

ON CHARGE OF RIOTING.

Oscar Lee Pleads Guilty and Received Chain Gang Sentence.

Oscar Lee, colored, pleaded guilty before Judge Brannen Monday evening to a charge of rioting, and received a sentence of six months on the chain gang.

The rioting occurred in the village of Adabelle, and continued from Saturday night into Sunday.

Boss Bird was associated with Lee, but he escaped and has so far evaded arrest. His home is in the vicinity of Metter, and it is expected that he will soon be picked up near there.

The defendant in the riot was Freeman Johnson, against whom Lee and Bird had a grudge which they undertook to settle Saturday night. Johnson had a shot gun which he used in defense, while Lee and Bird punctured the air with pistol shots.

No one was hit in the fusillade, though a ball from Lee's pistol passed through a hat on his mother's head, and the residence of John Simmons near by was partly filled with stray lead.

The Famous Twenty-Three.

Democrats who supported Cannonism last spring sacrificed the interest of both their country and their party.

Ordinarily a politician is only obliged to choose between the two. Cannon's democratic contingent managed to sacrifice both, for considerations that have not been fully disclosed, though some of the committee assignments afford suggestions, and Herbert Parsons' charges against Cannon throw a good deal of light on the matter.

William Schley Howard, candidate for congress in the Fifth Georgia district against Congressman Livingston, charged that certain Georgia congressmen were bribed to support the Speaker.

A number of people from here are planning to attend the dedication service at MacDonell church, Hubert, on the fifth Sunday in October. Rev. P. W. Ellis, of Statesboro, will preach at 11 a. m. and 2 p. m. Dinner on the ground.

The people of the Hubert community will meet at the church on Tuesday, Oct. 26th, in order to complete the work on the building.

COTTON MILLS CLOSING DOWN

WILL TRY ONE OR TWO WEEKS' CURTAILMENT AS EXPERIMENT.

Charlotte, N. C., Oct. 25.—Next Monday morning some of the largest mills in the Piedmont section of the Carolinas will inaugurate a one or two weeks' curtailment, and if conditions do not improve it is likely that this period of curtailment will be considerably extended.

The first North Carolina plant to inaugurate this plan is the Tabor mill, and the Henrietta mills, the biggest plant in the state, employing 3,000 operatives, will follow suit Monday, and it is probable that the Carolinian mills, under the same management, will shut down in a few days. The seven big mills in Spartanburg county, South Carolina, shut down last night. These are the Whitney, Spartan, Clifton, Glendale, Arcwright, Lockhart and Pacolet. They consume about 200,000 bales of cotton annually and employ 10,000 operatives. The mills have run two weeks on five days' time, but the present shut down is complete and for an indefinite time.

There is now a feeling among the manufacturers that the curtailment proposition having been sanctioned by the mills without thereby injuring their standing in the least, and as it has been pretty generally agreed that curtailment is the businesslike course to pursue, the movement is gaining in strength as it progresses.
